SENIOR FICTION

The Library has a small number of fiction books which are restricted to years 11 and 12 only. These books have themes which may be considered unsuitable for the majority of younger readers eg Stephen King's horror stories. However, some of the younger girls are mature readers with the ability to handle such topics. Students in Years 7 – 10 may borrow senior fiction if they have the permission of their parents/guardians. If you feel your daughter is able to cope with these more mature books we ask you to provide your permission. Your daughter's name will then be added to our list of girls with unrestricted borrowing.