I gained an insight into a different world and learnt to use my initiative. I recommend this type of adventure to anyone who wants to see the world, experience a different culture, as well as discovering another side of themselves. An awesome trip! Madeleine, Peru Expedition

Antipodeans first sent students to Peru in 1997 and it has been a favourite destination even since! Our teams explore this incredibly diverse country whilst soaking up the culture, the language and the rich history.

Student work on rewarding projects with the Quechua community - an opportunity that allows for full culture immersion. Topped off with bucket list items such as Machu Picchu, Cusco and Lake Titicaca (some of best South America has to offer) will make Peru an unforgettable Expedition experience.

PERU EXPEDITION
PROJECT
Supporting indigenous communities.
Projects are based in the hills outside of Cuzco and in the Sacred Valley. The people are indigenous Qechuan, the direct descendants of the Inca. This immersion allows comparisons with our indigenous history. Projects involve construction and renovation of schools and community buildings, teaching English, house visits and playing games with the local kids.

TREK
Stunning mountain treks staying in local villages.
There are many options for incredible trekking in Peru. Explore the Sacred Valley and trek along old Inca paths to the famous hot springs, head to Colca Canyon for stunning views or for more remote treks – groups can visit Cordillera Blanca! (N.B. Treks are optional for Community Service Tours)

EXPLORE!
From Machu Picchu to Lake Titicaca and beyond!
Stunning Cuzco, incredible Machu Picchu, Lake Titicaca, NAZCA lines, tranquil Arequipa and the rugged mountains of the Andes are all must-see attractions to be explored. Combine this with the vibrant and friendly Peruvian people for a rewarding and unforgettable experience.

LET'S GO!
